Water Notice.

In accordance with Sec. I. of chapter XXVII. of the Laws of 1886. All persons holding water privileges or those paying water rates, are hereby notified that the water rates for the term ending December 31, 1889, will be due and payable at the office of the Honolulu Water Works on the first of July, 1889.

All such rates remaining unpaid for fifteen days after they are due, will be subject to an additional 10 per cent.

Parties paying rates will please present their last receipt.

Rates are payable at the office of the Water Works in the Kapuwa Building.

The statute allowing no discretion strict enforcement of this clause will be made.

THE Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1889.

The Hilo Record complains that the arrangements of San Francisco and inter-island steamers are such that frequently the Hilo public have but one opportunity in the month for sending mail matter to the Coast. Our friends on the other islands, or their correspondents in Honolulu or abroad, will never have a satisfactory mail service until the Government is able to undertake having mails carried to suit the public convenience.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—I would like to say a word about the "glorious fourth" in opposition to the "protest" of my friend Mr. Eldredge, which appeared in the BULLETIN a few days ago. I fail to see wherein a baseball game is going to interfere with any boating exercises that may be arranged for the day, unless Mr. Eldredge expects to force people to attend a regatta after he has succeeded in squelching the baseball game.

Baseball is known the world over as the "American national game," which it surely is, and consequently it would seem to me that a game would be very fitting as a part of the day's celebration. I do not at all object to a boat race and am not at all fearful of its detracting from the ball game, and even were it to do so I am sure none of the numerous baseball enthusiasts would have any fault to find.

Mr. Eldredge's alarm and protest would seem to me significant that the mass would prefer baseball, as if such is not the case, why should he start in so early to try and obtain support for his ideas of taboing a ball game on that day. If he is satisfied that boating is preferred by the large part of the people I should think he would go ahead and get up his races and expect the people to attend them.

Now, in my suggestions I will be more liberal than is my friend. I say have both, and let those who prefer a ball game spend their afternoon at the Makiki reserve, while Mr. Eldredge, the BULLETIN, and the rest of his sympathizers repair to the foot of Fort street and take in the regatta. A baseball game I am sure will take the place of the sports usually indulged in on the "4th," and will I say be a great feature of the day's programme. If it be as I suggest I feel assured that I shall meet Mr. Eldredge at the ball in the evening and be able to exchange pleasant views with him on the general, all around, good time had by everybody on the 4th of July, 1889.

HAWAIIAN POLITICAL ASSOCIATION.

Changed Constitution and Platform
The Founder sticks to the Old Organization.

There was a meeting of the Hawaiian Political Association at the Yosemite skating rink yesterday evening. Mr. John E. Bush, president, was in the chair, and John Poi, secretary. When the meeting got under way, there being about sixty to seventy present out of a membership roll of one to two thousand, a new constitution and platform were submitted to the meeting.

Mr. John Sheldon interpreted the proceedings.

Mr. W. C. Achi moved that the preamble be amended by altering the words, "for the good of the Hawaiian," to read "for the good of all."

Mr. Dan Lyons raised the point that the meeting was out of order, as the constitution provided that it could only be amended by the board of directors.

Mr. J. K. Nahale (member for North Kona in 1886) called Mr. Lyons to order, as Mr. Achi's motion was before the house. He was utterly opposed to argument on the old constitution, as they were discussing the new constitution.

The chair sustained the latter point of order, and Mr. Achi's motion being put was carried almost unanimously.

Section 1 was carried, declaring the name of the body to be the "Hawaiian Political Association, established in Honolulu, A. D. 1889."

Section 2 was amended by striking out the words, "all pure Hawaiians," and inserting "all voters," as those eligible to membership.

Section 3 stating the officers to be a president, five vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and a board of ten directors, was passed, an amendment for one vice-president being voted down.

Section 4 was amended so as to give the vice-presidents the power of approving candidates jointly with the president, instead of vesting that power solely in the president.

The president, before the last amendment was put, stated that Mr. Dan Lyons might assume that this section was designed to take the power away from him, but he wanted it understood that on the adoption of the constitution he was to resign, when the presidency would be open to Mr. Lyons or any other man, black or white, who could secure a majority of votes.

Section 5 passed, making the vice-presidents chairmen of the electoral wards of Honolulu.

Mr. Achi moved in amendment to a subsequent section, "that all who intended to run for the Legislature pay $5 a month and other members 25 cents a month as dues to the Association."

Mr. R. W. Wilcox, in a ringing speech that brought down the house, moved that all dues be abolished, which was carried.

Other provisions carried were as follows: All candidates for the Legislature must be bound by an oath, administered by the board of directors, to support the principles of the Association. All members must be bound to support the straight ticket of the Association. The constitution may be changed by a majority at a special meeting called for the purpose.

The president read the draft of a new platform, which left out entirely the distinctive plank of the old one, viz., the election of all important officials. As orally interpreted, there being no English copy, the draft of the platform is as follows:

"1. It shall be the purpose of this Association to preserve monarchical institutions as they exist, and to conserve the interests of all the people.

"2. To reduce expenses of government and to abolish all useless offices and expenditures.

"3. To reconsider those parts of the Constitution which have an unjust bearing on certain classes of the people.

"4. To encourage the industry of the kingdom.

"5. To reduce the amount of property qualification to voters for Nobles.

"6. To encourage all progressive enterprises originating within or coming into the Kingdom.

"7. That two-thirds of the Legislature shall have the power to elect the Cabinet.

"8. That the heads of the Government shall have the power to appoint the minor officers." (There was some disagreement as to the rendering of the last section.)

Mr. Dan Lyons said: I want to be set right in regard to this platform. I would like, as a member of the Hui Kalaiala, to know what we are to do with the platform of seven months ago. Fourteen hundred members—

Mr. W. C. Achi raised the point that the discussion of the platform was out of order until the members should have signed the new constitution.

Mr. Lyons—Have we any connection—

The President—It is my opinion that we are disconnected from the old Association and that we are here as a new Association, and that the first duty is to elect new officers. We should elect new officers before proceeding further.

Mr. Lyons—As the organizer of the old Association I propose to keep it going and repudiate the action of those who have formed this Association. I consider the office of the old Association vacated and will call a meeting to have new officers elected.

Mr. Achi asked the President to rule Mr. Lyons out of order. They had met under the old Association and adopted a constitution for a new one. They proposed to go ahead and not behind, and if Dan Lyons was a gentleman he would not come there to raise a disturbance.

The meeting then concentrated about the table to contribute coin for paying the hall rent, and it being after 10 o'clock the members of the press gallery adjourned.

THE PILCOMAYO.

The Chilean man-of-war Pilcomayo arrived last evening, sixty-four days from Panama. In coming in the channel her bow went on to the mud near the lighthouse. The tug Eleu got up steam and going to her assistance soon had her off, without any damage being done. The Pilcomayo was built in England in 1874, has engines of 250 horse power and a complement of 120 men.

She was here before, the latter end of December, 1886. It is probable she will remain here three weeks. Mr. H. Renjes, the acting Chilean Consul, went on board this morning.

Following is a list of her officers: Captain—Florence Valenzuela. Commander—Joquin Munye. Lieutenants—Vicente Meimo, Dario Espinosa, Luis Barrientos.

Sub-Lieutenants—Jorge Pacheco, Alfredo Christie. Midshipmen—Eduardo Hyatt, Icoico, Martin, Alfredo Portallaga, Abel Valder, Carlos Fuensalida, Juan Schroeder, Luis Barnbach, Fernando Besanilla.

Surgeon—Alejandro Rojas. Paymaster—Alberto Valder. Assistant Paymaster—Daniel Azocar.

Chief Engineer—Archibaldo McHoughton. Assistant Engineer—Moises Solar.

NUUANU VALLEY ROAD.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—For some five days past about half-a-mile of the Nuuanu Valley road, between the Queen Emma residence and Wylie street, has been converted into a river bed. A good sized stream has been coursing down, carrying off what little yet remained of the top dressing, rendering the condition of a bad road worse. Whether it arises from the bursting of a water pipe or the overflow of a natural watercourse, your correspondent is not aware. A comparatively slight expenditure upon this portion of the road at the present time would, on the "stitch in time" principle, be in the line of economy, by saving a greater outlay in the future. As far as the mauoleum it has been put into an excellent state of repair, but no further. X.
